

Congratulations to Those Who Are Nice.

Congratulations to those who are nice,
for they never offend.

Congratulations to those who are polite,
for they make things comfortable.

Congratulations to those who are inert,
for they seem harmless.

Congratulations to those who are seemly
for they do not think to complain

Congratulations to those who have good intentions
for they mean well.

Congratulations for those who feast on red herrings
for they are full of it.

Congratulations to the optimists
for they know everything will get better.

Congratulations to the pessimists
for they know there is nothing to be done.

Congratulations to those on the sidelines
for they may declare "I told you so".

Congratulations to those who are meek;
they shall inherit what is left of the Earth.

Blessed are you, the outcasts
for you have walked new roads.

Blessed are you who look to the sky,
for you see the clouds coming.

Blessed are you who hope;
for you hold the light.

Blessed are you who have ears,
for you will never lack friends.

Blessed are you who blow whistles
for you have embraced danger.

Blessed are you who are stubborn
for you will get answers.

Blessed are you who are poor in heart,
for you see the truth.

Blessed are you prophets;
though you will be crucified.

Blessed are you whose anger is pure;
for you shall get things done.
