

Hell In A Handcart

All moments, it is said, are contained in the one moment.

So which moment shall it be?

Shall you have the moment that God calls to us through darkness over and over, like Samuel.

Or the moment that God tells us, once and for all, that, like Eli, we have failed.

Or the moment that God calls us from our tangled nets and we decide to follow.

Or the moment, by a warm fire, that we deny our God. Three times.

This is the moment of Genesis, or the End of Times

It is all the same moment. The beginning or the end.

Resurrection, or Hell-in-a-hand-cart.

You choose.

©Lucy Berry 2020